Rhyno's Rant

Greeting	I'm Missa Dixon And this is Missa's Urban Home on Blog Talk Radio The show where we enlightening lives one extraordinary topic at a time.
Today's show	Rhyno's Rants. My nickname in several circles is Rhyno and I have something to rant about today. I want to get some things off my chest that just don't make any sense to me.
Weather	Feels like spring, warm little over cast. Yesterday the wind was kicking up blowing all those leaves into my yard.
Foo Dog Mafia	Yes I did get the squeaky toy.
Thankful Moment	This week has been tough and I was having trouble finding something to be thankful for, however, I can up with something. My job has one really nice perk. I can take off whenever I want too without much hassle. So I took Friday off and I am very thankful for that.
Pointing moment	That's what the show is all about!
Upcoming Shows	Jan 31st (Next week) – Diana Winner will be back!!! Hey. She will be here talking about seeds. How to buy them? How to start them? How to store them? And all kinds of goodies. February is our love month. Every Sunday in February I will tackle some romance. Feb 6th – First up author Joyce Norman will be here to talk about her book "Coming Together". It's an international romance. Feb 14th – Kalila Smith is back to talk the love Voodoo with us. She will be sharing some of her experiences being a child of New Orleans and living the voodoo path.

Show Prep:

Rhyno's Rants

- ⊗ I turned 40 just last week and today's show is my ranting about stuff that has pissed me off in the last 40 years. Mostly I just need to get things off my chest that have pissed me off in the last year but who's counting.

- ⊗ Let's start with the political house.
 - Read Missa's folly: Can be found on the web site www.missadixon.com
 - Now I wrote that the day after Obama's elections. And to this day I still agree that was my feeling on that day. But boy things have changed.
 - I voted for Obama for four reasons
 - Get out of Iraq permanently
 - Why I wanted out
 - Get out of Afghanistan – or at least make it less invasive to our culture.
 - Why I wanted out
 - Legalize gay marriage
 - Why I wanted gay marriage
 - At least some form of health care for everyone.
 - Why health care is so important
 - The track record of our new president sucks!
 - Iraq – we are stuck there until. Our people are dying because of what. Unfinished contracts or something. There is NO reason for us to go in and there is NO reason for us to stay. Or at least that I am privy too.
 - Get out of Afghanistan – Trust me I would love the bad-ass MF'ers that got a hold of a great country like Afghanistan to die a slow and painful death. What they do to women alone makes me what to pike them out of the field for the crows. But let's learn from the Russians. They couldn't do it neither can we! Let it go they are nasty and no one likes them stop trying to fix it you can't!
 - Gay Marriage – What is the god damn deal people? It's not your business what everybody else is doing. If people what to get married for the love of the Gods let them be as miserable as you are. And stay out of it. This is a non-argument problem. Two (or more) people shacking up together is part of the human animal genetic code.

- Health Care – WTF! I realize it comes down to this: Everybody knows that we need health care for everybody but nobody thinks they should pay for it. Obama...honey...get a single payer system in place to compete with everyone else.
- Can we just get anything that I want done!! Just one thing that just totally doesn't give me the willies. I voted for you, now work for me please.

⊗ He has bowed to the Republicans who got us into this mess.

- He hasn't cleaned up a thing.
- Now the Republican Supreme Court has allowed corporations to buy elections under the idea of free speech. And all Obama can do is be out raged.
- Seriously dude did you think they were just going to go quietly into that good night. No they're coming back again to keep messing in up. Till they get everything and you're letting them.

⊗ Quiver-full people

- These are the people that are having way too many kids. They want to fill the world with God's army to smite down the rest of us.
- Unfortunately I have started to see way too many families taking this ignorant way of thinking to heart.
 - Health department
 - Walmart
- Christ's army is like the 8th plague locus eating up everything, taking everything and leaving no room from the rest of us.
- People if you're taking any assistance from anyone you can't afford to have more children.

⊗ Air America Closing

- The one bright spot for the last three years has been Air America but just like everything liberal once they think they've won they stop being interested.

- The one voice amount all this right-wing, tea-party, breed stupid, take all you can...on and on and on people - was Air America and the, we want to change the world liberals, just abandoned it once they felt they had won.
- Guess what they are going to take very thing everyone owns and it will be your fault.

⊗ The fashion people

- I've had to start looking at fashion and paying some attention to my public personal this year. I was horrified by these people who call themselves the cutting edge of fashion.
- Seriously who died and put you in charge.
- Have you seen what you look like...some spiky clown escaped from a satanic circus.
- Some of the crap you think looks good sucks.
 - Overly boney women in shiny crappy gowns
 - Men wearing all the same black tux with the new bed head look for hair.
- Women have to be so skinny to look good then you complain that they are too skinny.
- Get off the field! You're in the way!

⊗ Clothes lines

- OMG's in this time of needing to save money and the planet places don't want you to hang your laundry out because it offends them.
- Yahoo article.
- Mid-South con.
